

Red Shift Mantra

ELECTRONIC / SYNTHWAVE • SEATTLE, WA • EST. 2024

Cosmic pressure encoded as sound. Two transmissions mapping the distance between atomic vibration and the void between stars.

// BIOGRAPHY

Red Shift Mantra is the cosmic metaphor made audible — the red shift of distant light stretched low, the mantra as vibration that reshapes consciousness through repetition. Two albums map this terrain: Phoneme (9 tracks of granular synth architecture) and Deep Field Image (7 tracks inspired by the Hubble Deep Field observation). The sound occupies the space between synthwave's pulse and ambient's expanse. It is not retro-futurism. It is cosmic realism — the sound of a universe that is mostly empty, punctuated by the violence of creation.

// KEY TRACKS FOR SYNC PLACEMENT

Obsidian

120 BPM • 5:38

Driving synthwave with granular texture. Night driving, tech reveals, high-stakes montage.

Ajna

90 BPM • 7:22

Hypnotic synth architecture, drone to pulse. Meditation sequences, consciousness expansion.

Kobayashi Maru

110 BPM • 4:51

Tension-laden electronic. Cliffhangers, training sequences, impossible-choice narratives.
